Solidarity of Nations - Achvat Amim is a movement-building platform that provides frameworks and programs for young adults to engage in meaningful partnerships with Palestinians and Israelis in the movement for self-determination for all. Achvat Amim participants represent a growing movement amongst Diaspora Jews, led especially by the younger generation, that rejects ongoing Israeli policies of occupation and inequality and amplifies actors championing alternatives. As Achvat Amim strives to make programming as financially accessible as possible for all potential participants, community scholarship programs/funded internships with partner organizations opens opportunities for activists and changemakers from all financial backgrounds.

The **5-Month Immersive** — our flagship program which has been running for 9 years — helps individuals between the ages of 20-30 live in Jerusalem, find right-sized political action, and build transformative relationships, all while engaging in our in-depth curriculum covering history, identity, and Jewish spiritual frameworks for liberation. An integral part of this Immersive programming is our volunteer placements — personalized volunteer opportunities for each cohort participant based on their individual interest and skills, as well as the needs of different organizations and communities. The volunteer placements at Achvat are built for cohort participants to be able to engage in meaningful and impactful ways with Palestinian and Israeli changemakers on-the-ground. For a decade we've built dozens of partnerships with educational, community, and human rights organizations, doing grassroots work with Palestinians and Israelis in and around Jerusalem.

Currently we have several partner organizations, such as Rabbis For Human Rights, who provide stipends to Achvat volunteers in order to subsidize their program costs. As we strive to broaden our diversity of volunteer opportunities, and continue to make Achvat Amim as financially accessible as possible to cohort participants of all backgrounds, we are currently looking for more partners like who are interested in teaming up with us to offer small stipends or program subsidies in exchange for up to 20 hours a week of dedicated work from cohort participants. Please let us know if this form of partnership would be valuable to your organization! Also happy to arrange a time to talk about options over zoom or in person.
